

Dream Sequence

Dream Sequence, Photography, 2020

The state of 2020 and the stay at home orders prompted by the pandemic had placed restrictions upon us, which although the outcome is different for everyone, the new normal for many people is experiencing a monotony or repetition in their daily lives. “Dream Sequence” is a photo series centered around the theme of escaping from our daily lives into our own fantasies, whether that be a life of luxury or a life of peace and quiet. Inspired by the idea that imagination is borne from restriction I created this series in a narrative sequence that follows the perspective of someone yearning for a world unlike their own and escaping into that world. With this series, I wanted to show that we can have our Alice in Wonderland moment and escape, even if momentarily, into our dream world.

I Yearn For Something
Else

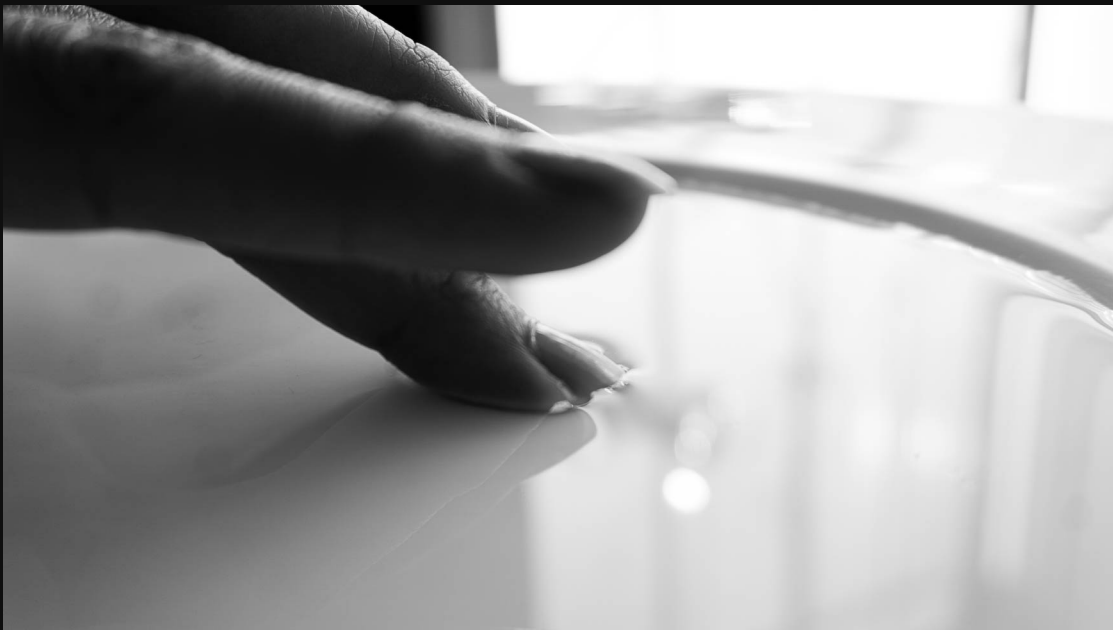

In A Dream I Saw...

My Reflection Beckoned Me

On the Cusp of

An Escape

Into a Reality Unlike My Own

I Could Don A Mask

Take a Rest

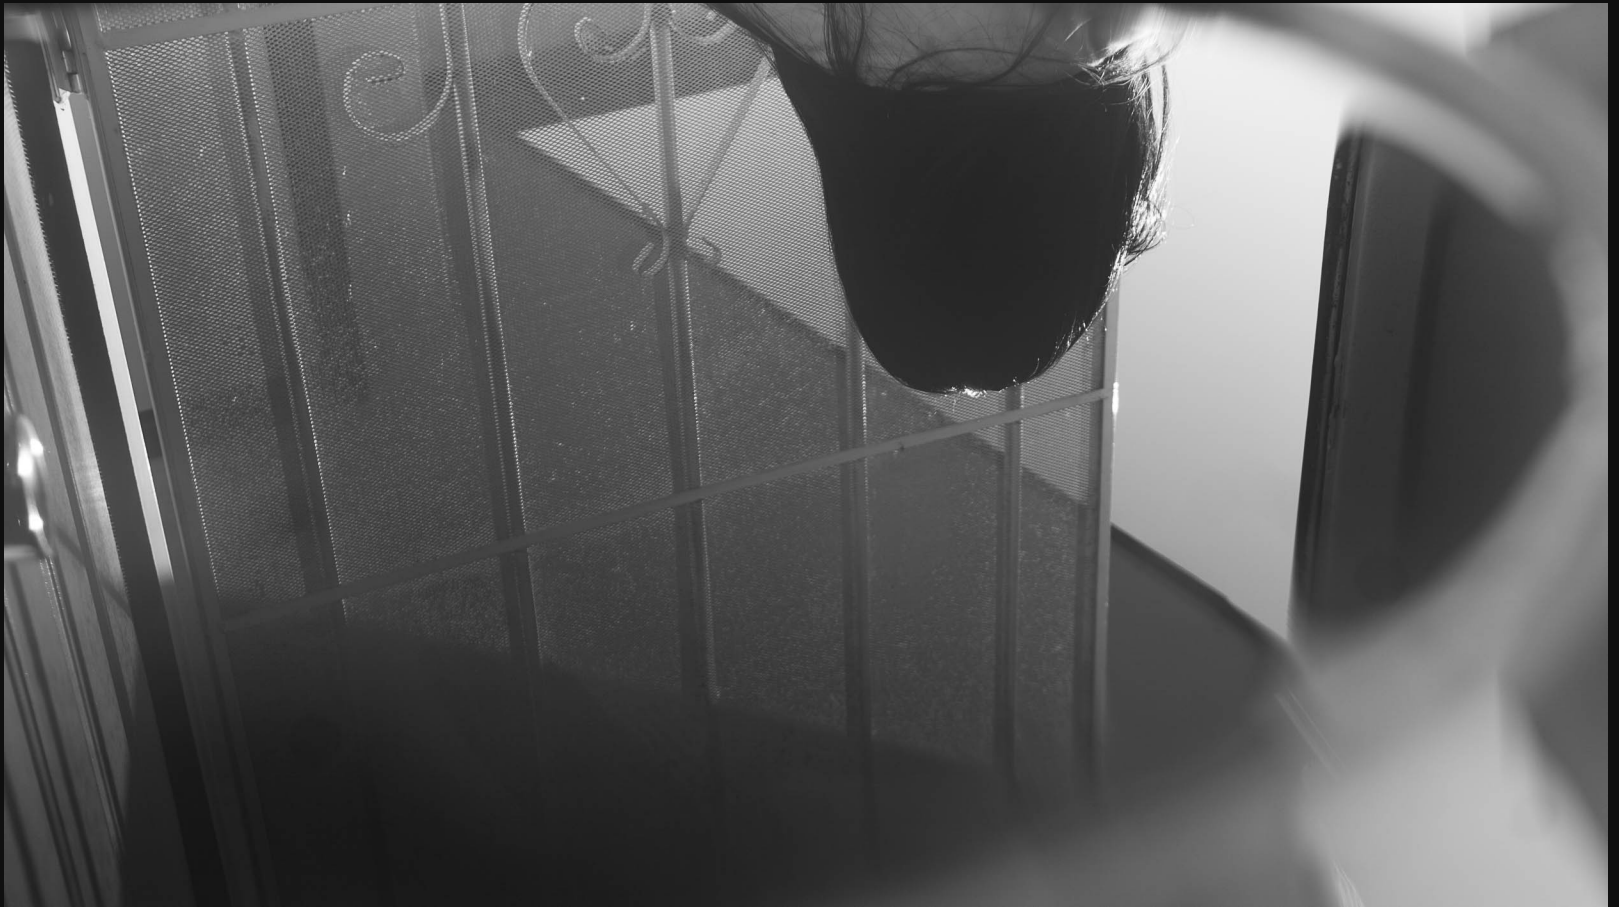

Consume a Little Luxury

So Pour Me Some Would You?

With My Memories

I left.
